Over a Thousand Fall.

A Grand Stand Gives Way in England.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND PRESENT.

At the Moment of the Crash They Become Panic-Stricken and Many People Are Trampled Upon-Various Other

Love N. Aug. 5.-An accident occurred at Atherstone, Warwickshire, yesterday, injuring a large number of peo-ple, but providentially killing none. An inthense grand stand had been erected from which to view the military tournament in progress at that place, and at the time of the accident it was occupied by 1000 people, while 10,000 more were closely packed on either side. Suddenly a crash was heard and a section of the stand fell to the ground, carrying with it over 1,000 spectators. It was fortunate that the fall was not very great, as many people might have been killed, but as it was, a large number were injured, some of them seriously.

When the crash came the immense when the crash came the immense gathering became panic stricken and trampled upon the prostrate ones in their frantic efforts to escape from danger, the extent of which they were not aware. Several cool headed men were successful in allaying the fears of the fleeing ones and turned many of them back to render assistance to the injured. Dr. Parke, the surgeon of Stanley's expedition was present, and he, with several local physicians, dressed the wounds of the injured.

Queen Natalie's Troubles.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The publication by ex-Queen Natalie, of Servia, of the story of the divorce proceedings brought against her by King Milan, together with an account of the flagrant conduct of her husband with Madame Christich, or her husband with Madaine Christich, has greatly exasperated Milan, who is endeavoring to find some means of retaliation. Natalie also scores the subservient metropolitan who granted the divorce in spite of the fact that the evidence was wholly in favor of herself, and the procedulities are that another and the probabilities are that another attempt will be made to exclude the ex-queen from Servia before she gets ready to leave on her contemplated visit to Russia, where, it is understood, she will take up her permanent residence. It is stated that Milan's excesses have greatly impaired his health and alienated many of those who have stood by him in his Latest from Buenos Ayres.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The correspondent of The Times at Buenos Ayres says that Dr. Pellegrini, president of the senate, threatens to resign. President Celman has offered every post in the cabinet to the leaders of the opposition, but the offers have been declined. The officers of the regiments recently opposed to one another are now fraternizing and declare that henceforth the troops will be united. The naval officers have resumed the command they deserted during the revolt. The police and members of the fire department are guarding President Celman's house, and will defend it against any surprise by the army.

Medical Congress.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—The tenth international medical congress opened in this city yesterday. Two thousand five hundred Germans and 2,500 foreign doctors, including 500 physicians from America are present. Herr Von Boetticher made an address welcoming the delegates on behalf of the German states, and Dr. Von Gossler welcomed them on behalf of the educational department. An address welcoming the delegates to Berlin was made by the burgomaster of the PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—John Caprell, aged 58, of 3408 North Nineteenth street, while crossing the Reading railroad tracks at Thirteenth and Comberland streets, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, had one of his feet caught in a frog and before he could extricate it he was struck by a switch engine and almost in-stantly killed.

READY FOR THE EXECUTION. Kemmler, the Murderer, Will Soon Try

the New Form of Execution.

AUBURN, N. Y., Aug. 5. — From present indications William Kemmler will be executed between midnight and daybreak on the morning of Wednesday Aug. 6. Warden Durston said yesterday afternoon that he had sent invitations to the out-of-town witnesses before he took his hurried trip to New York, and that these witnesses were to be at the prison at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. All sorts of wild rumors have been in circusorts of wild rumors have been in circulation in the last twenty-four hours. At an early hour yesterday morning it was reported that two hacks had driven up to the prison gate at midnight and discharged their loads, and the inference was hastily drawn that the witnesses has the street of the str nesses had been summoned secretly and that the execution was to take place vesterday. Great local excitement followed this announcement, and the special corre-spondents of the newspapers who are here in great numbers were quickly routed out of bed and sent skirmishing after the facts. The story, like many others that have been put in circulation in the past week, was found to be without foundation, and Warden Durston, coming in this morning on the early coming in this morning on the early train from Syracuse, where he had spent the night, soon dispelled all lin-gering doubt of its falsity. Yesterday morning the story was in general circulation, and it was commonly believed that the execution was to take place yesterday.

This impression also was dispelled when Warden Durston made the statement yesferday to a reporter of the United Press that the witnesses had United Press that the witnesses had already assembled at the prison. It does not follow necessarily that the execution will occur Wednesday morning. It may be deferred for another twenty-four hours. But Mr. Durston has stated several times since sentence was passed upon Kemmler that it was his intention to fix the hour of the execution as early in the week as could be done in decency. So it is more than likely that Wednesday morning will see the end of Kemmer.

If can be stated on the most reliable authority that the stories of Kemmler's physical and mental weakness recently published are unfounded. He is as quiet as usual, amuses himself as he has done as usual, amuses himself as he has done for months past by practicing his recently acquired accomplishment—writing—eats heartly and sleeps well. Last night he slept like a child. To-day he ate three good meals and spent much of his time writing cards, reading from his Bible and talking with his keepers. His spiritual adviser, the Rev. Dr. Houghton and the chaplain of the prison, Dr. Yates, visited him during the day and spent more than an hour talking to him about the hereafter. He was calm and about the hereafter. He was calm and repeated his professions of faith without apparent emotion. He has heard noth ing of the rumors in circulation without, and, while he realizes that this is his last week on earth, he does not seem at all fearful of death.

Warden Durston gave out to the United Press last night the following list of those who are to be present at the prison Tuesday evening to witness the execution:

Dr. C. F. McDonald, of New York Dr. C. F. McDonald, of New York, formerly physician in charge at the state insane asylum; Dr. Samuel D. Ward, of Albany; Dr. A. P. Southwick, of Buffalo; Dr. E. C. Spitzka, of New York; Dr. George E. Fell, of Buffalo; Dr. C. M. Daniels, of Buffalo; Dr. W. F. Jenkins, of New York; Louis Balch. of Albany, secretary of the state board of health; Dr. W. J. Nellis, of Albany; Dr. A. Argue, of Corning: ex-Senator D. H. McMillan. of Buffalo, the father of the electricide bill; the Hon. John B. Stanselectricide bill; the Hon. John B. The following persons have been notified to be present in their official capacity: George B. Quinby, district attorney of Eric county: Oliver A. Jenkins, sheriff of Eric county; Judge Henry A. Childs (who sentenced Kemm-ler).

The fact that the name of Electrician Barnes, of Rochester, does not appear in Warden Durston's official list, excited some comment to-night. The warden is thought to be much annoyed by the publication of the interview with Mr. Barnes, which appeared in The Rochester Post-Express and in the United Press dispatches Wednesday af-

Mr. Durston has maintained a strict silence about the arrangements for the execution, and it is natural that he should be annoyed at the divulgence of the program. There are three elec-tricans to be appointed, however, and it is probable Mr. Barnes will be named as the third when the final arrangements are made. Mr. Barnes did not have charge of the early tests of the dynamo, as is claimed, but he was present and is ery and his presence therefore is desira-ble. intimately acquainted with the macnin-

The latest story concerning Kemmler's condition, put in circulation, is to the effect that on July 35 his nerve gave way, and for some time he could ent nothing, and wine was given him to sustain his strength, that finally it was necessary to administer including to quiet his nerves and put him to sleep and that on awakening he said that he had a vision of hell. Whatever truth there may be in this story, it is equally true that Reminler is calm and un-trembled to-day, and that he sie re and eats well.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5—The celebration of "German Day" here yesterday resulted in one of the finest parades ever seen here. Nearly 10,000 men were in line and 100,000 people thronged the streets to witness it. The event was the anniversary of the battle of Oriskany, at which Gen. Herkimer, with 800 Germans, defeated twice that number of British and Indians. The stars and stripes was the only flag carried. A dozen magnificent floates, typical of German influence and accomplishments in this country, including one of the Brooklyn bridge, figured in the parade.

Few ceremonial customs have originated in recent times, avers Garrick Mallery, who in recent times, a very continuous in a recent is-expresses humself as follows in a recent is-sue of The American Anthropologist: Their forms, whether now trivial or still impor forms, whether now trivial or still impor-tant in sociology, are vestiges of the past, and only by anthropologic studies are traceable to their genesis and early form. All authorities, unswayed by a religious or theorizing bias, agree that in the origin of these ceremonies there was nothing de-signed or intentional; that is, they were not directly invented with definite pur-noses. A thing is not now and never has poses. A thing is not now and never has been customarily done because it is intrinsically right, but is considered to be right after and because it has been habitually done, whatever its origin or the circumstances in which it prevailed.

Hari-kari, or the Happy Dispatch.

Hari-kari, or the happy dispatch, was Japanese method of execution. When an official of rank was condemned to death a sword was sent to him; he took leave of his family, performed certain religious rites and then plunged the sword into his bowels, drawing it down and across. If a gentleman had been insulted he would commit bari-kari on the doorstep of his enemy, who by the Japanese code of honor was compelled to do the same. Unly old fashioned persons perform the happy dis patch nowadays in Japan; it has been shelved along with many other good old customs of that lovely empire, says The

The medical press is now announcing the alleged discovery by Dr. Malin-Conico, of Naples, of the "microbe of old age." The public is informed through Italian jour-nals that the microbe of old age exists and is transmitted by herediting investigations. is transmitted by heredity; invades with age the entire human organism, which it ravages and destroys, leading to caducity and finally to death. It is to be hoped that Dr. Malin-Conico's "discoveries" will not end here, but that having found the sub tle enemy he will next announce a success ful means of combating it, and provide the patient public with a new elixir of

The royal insignia of France, the fleur delis, is generally supposed to have originally represented the lily. Authority on the legends and history of plants says: "In France the fleur-de-lis is so named by corruption of fleur-de-Louis; it does not represent, as is generally supposed, the flower of a lily, but an iris, which was the emblem adopted by Louis VII on leaving for the Crusades, and was worn by the successors of that monarch.

Strictly speaking the Latin people were the inhabitants of Latium, in ancient Italy. The Latin races of today are the descendants, more or less remote of those race who speak languages more or less derived from the Latin tongue. Such races are the Italians, Spanish and Portuguese and French. The South and Central America ountries are called Latin America because their inhabitants are of Spanish and Por tuguese extraction.

The representatives of the family of the late Gen. Garibaldi have sold to the Ital ian government their patrimony in the island of Caprers for 200,000f. They only reserved from the sale the house, tomb and garden of the famous general. The gov ernment, before acquiring full possession of the island, paid a further sum of 150,-000f. as compensation to different persons.

Milkmen are much the same all over the world in their attempts to palm off upon the public as much water as they can disguise. On the Boulevard de Magenta recently, at an early hour in the morning, two policemen came upon one of these purveyors of lacteal finid busily filling up the cans on his cart from the pump, and with such stuff, too! Owing to the drought most of the water used n Paris is taken from the Seine, and its quality may be gathered from the fact that in the public schools orders have been issued that none is to be employed for drinking purposes without being fil-

The constables challenged the milky Aquarius, who replied courteously: "Ah! well, you have fairly caught me this time. Jump up on my cart and I will drive you to the police office to save you trouble." This amiable invitation was refused by the sergents de ville, who ordered the delinquent to come out of his cart and walk with them. Instead of complying he whipped up his horse and attempted to escape. At considerable risk one of the constables seized the an imal's head, brought it to a standstill, and arrested the delinquent, who along with his "mixture" was marched off to the station. The unusual incident collected a large number of spectators, chiefly workpeople, whose remarks to the erring milkman were far from complimentary.—Paris Cor. London Tele graph.

A Big Babbit Trap.

Illinois proudly comes to the front for a high place in the world of invention. Its inventor is Mr. Funk, a farmer at Heyworth. This invention is a rabbit trap. Mr. Funk is a competitor for the prize of $125,000 offered by the Australian government for a device that will rid Australia of the terrible rabbit pest which threatens to destroy its agriculture. Various things have been tried without success. The M. Pasteur plan of inoculating the rabbits with a deadly disease was the most promising of these, but this was also a failure. Funk's trap dumps the rabbits into a pit by means of a platform swung on pivots below a bait uspended above it. He has just been informed that the parliamentary committee on rabbits regards it with favor, and has been asked to come to Australia to look after it .- Exchange.

A Mosquito Killer.

Lighthouse Point has for years been infested by mosquitoes, but this year it is said that these insects are harder to find there than picnic gatherings. The reason is that a bug of bigger growth has come along and completely destroyed the mosquito plague. This bug is known by the name of devil's fly, darning needle or spindle bug. It has a long red body and long, tapering, gauze wings. They are regarded as a great boon, as they eat every mosquito that comes along.—New Haven Register.
